Hollywood Chinese: The Arthur Dong Collection Exhibition / October 23, 2009 – May 31, 2010

Hollywood Chinese: The Arthur Dong Documentary Collection presents selections from over 800 pieces of movie memorabilia that was collected during the ten-year research for Arthur Dong's groundbreaking film, Hollywood Chinese. Through posters, lobby cards, film stills, and scripts and documents dating from 1912, visitors journey into a vivid and graphic study of how Chinese have been imagined in the movies, reflecting the social and cultural history of the Chinese in America during the last century. In addition to iconic depictions evidenced by material from films such as The Good Earth, The Vengeance of Fu Manchu, Charlie Chan in Honolulu, and Flower Drum Song, highlights of the collection include the surviving archive of pioneer Chinese American filmmaker James B. Leong, who produced the 1921 film, Lotus Blossom, in Los Angeles.

Filmmaker Arthur Dong is the Guest Curator for this exhibition.

Jan 24 Bringing the Circle Together: Ghost Riders

Free Screening of Ghost Riders

7PM

The Bigfoot Memorial Ride, an annual 300-mile journey on horseback, helps the Lakota Nation "wipe the tears" shed for the massacre of Lakota men, women, and children at Wounded Knee in 1896, and for more recent hardships.

Participants convey the ride's spirit of sacrifice and remembrance, and the Lakota people's determination to build a better future. Guests for the night include the filmmaker. Special guest Producer and Director V. Blackhawk Aamodt will speak after the screening.

Bringing the Circle Together: A Native American Film Series

Bringing the Circle Together: A Native American Film Series is a FREE monthly film series located in downtown Los Angeles at the National Center for Preservation of Democracy. Directly across from our host sponsor, the Japanese American National Museum. The film series was established to provide quality documentaries by and about Indigenous cultures of the Americas, and bring together a central gathering place where discussion and awareness of issues can be shared with the Native community and its supporters.

The film series is held at the National Center for Preservation of Democracy located at 111 North Central Avenue, between 1st Street and Central Avenue, in downtown Los Angeles. The NCPD can be reached via train, bus, or parking in the area. Screenings will begin at 7pm, and it is advisable to arrive at least 15-20 minutes prior for seating. Each film will include a raffle at the end of the screening. (pdf for directions). Doors open at 6:30pm.

The film series is hosted by Lorin Morgan-Richards and is generously sponsored by the following organizations:

Event Description

Japanese American Cultural and Community Center with the Korean Cultural Center Los Angeles, The Japan Foundation, Los Angeles and the Japan Korea Society present the Little Tokyo Korea Japan Festival, a day-long celebration of cultural exchange between neighboring communities.

The closely shared similarities and differences between the cultures of Japan and Korea are explored in Tina Yanagimotos "New Beginnings: Cultural Harmony in Little Tokyo." This documentary chronicles the history of Little Tokyo and how Japanese and Korean residents are building bridges of friendship and harmony.

Featured films include the Korean award-winning 2008 Yeong-hwa-neun yeong-hwa-da (Rough Cut) followed by the 2007 remake of Akira Kurosawas Tsubaki Sanjuro (1962).

This unique program is hosted by Heroes actors James Kayson Lee and Eriko Tamura.

Ticket includes two films, a box lunch and outdoor performances.

Feb 7 Lunar New Year Street Festival - 10 am - 5:30 pm

On Valley Blvd. Between Garfield & Almansor

The Festival will be held in the heart of one of the largest Chinese / American commercial districts in the southland. The one-day festivities attract about 50,000 people and consist of more than 250 booths. There are many theme-oriented venues giving attendees a taste of the Chinese culture. The food court is an ideal place to sample dishes from different regions. Admission is free.

The festival will include an Entertainment Stage that features a variety of programs including the JC Penney Fashion Show. The Cultural Pavilion will be presenting several exhibits offering a glimpse into Chinese culture and tradition, including the giveaway of one thousand red envelopes. For children, several special areas will be provided for hands-on arts and crafts. Attendees can enter the karaoke singing contest to display their talent for a chance to win prizes.

Saturday, Feb 20, 2010 Six Taste's Little Tokyo Food Tour

Little Tokyo is home to several restaurants, bakeries, and other historical eating establishments. Its 100-plus years of history provide some fascinating stories. Six Taste's Little Tokyo Tour will take you throughout Little Tokyo, from Fugetsu-Do, a confectionary shop and the oldest building in Little Tokyo to Chado Tea Room, where you'll get to taste some authentic Japanese tea, to several other restaurants and other eateries.

Six Taste's food tours are more than just walking and eating. They hope to provide you with an entertaining, educational, and exciting experience. You'll learn about Japanese culture, the history of Little Tokyo, the art and science of tasting, and have great conversations over great food.

The "Gastronaut Tour" includes a balance of history, culture, and delicious food. You'll stop at some of the most fascinating historical locations in Little Tokyo, meet owners of some of the longest running stores in Little Tokyo, try amazing food at seven different locations, and learn about Japanese culture and culinary customs. This tour is perfect for tourists or LA natives that have never ventured into Little Tokyo before.

$50 members; $55 non-members, includes Museum admission. Comfortable walking shoes and warm clothes recommended. Weather permitting.

Feb 27-28 Chinatown Firecracker 5/10K

Feb 28

The 10K course is a challenging run through the hills of Elysian Park. From N. Broadway, the course winds up into the park to its highest elevation (see elevation map). The course winds through tree-lined rolling hills with the summit of Angels Point providing spectacular 180 degrees of the city.

The early morning vistas of downtown Los Angeles to the south and neighborhoods to the north from the various vantage points in Elysian Park are quite breathtaking and not commonly seen, even by longtime Angelenos.

Whatever your competitive level, enjoy the scenery and the camaraderie of fellow runners.

There is no vehicular traffic to contend with. Mile markers indicate where you are. Split times are called out by supportive course workers.

5K and 10K Starting times will stagger to accommodate all entrants.

Entry fee includes a complimentary "Carbo-Load" meal on Saturday.

Note: Course descriptions and images may change without notice due to construction, accessibility and other factors beyond our control.

The 5K run/walk is an up and back loop that takes participants to Dodger Stadium. The course begins on North Broadway for approximately 1/3 mile, then turns left onto Bishops Road. An immediate right turn at Stadium Way takes you over the 110 freeway toward Dodger Stadium for about a 1 mile uphill climb. This distance includes a right at Lookout Dr., then onto Lilac Terrace which leads again onto Stadium Way. A U-turn a little past Elysian Park Ave. returns you to Stadium Way directly to Bishops Road, then onto North Broadway toward the finish line. There is one water station on the course.

5K and 10K Starting times will stagger to accommodate all entrants.

Entry fee includes a complimentary "Carbo-Load" meal on Saturday.

Feb 27

20+ Mile Ride

Similar to the route from the 2009 inaugural event, this is a loop from Chinatown to Griffith Park and back. This year, a portion of this ride uses the L.A. River bike path.

Fully supported with a refreshment stop near half distance in Griffith Park. Since this ride is mainly on city streets, young riders are not encouraged to participate. Return to Chinatown for post-event refreshments, a Carbo-Load meal and Nite n' Day entertainment. This ride is suggested for beginner to intermediate riders. Mostly flat with a few rolling hills.

42+ Mile Ride

A ride to provide separation between you and other riders. This ride has a mixture of flats and challenging hills with an emphasis on the latter. After a relatively sedate ride into Griffith Park, you'll encounter the first climb in the hills toward Travel Town. After a brief stop for refreshments in the park, it's onto a rather flat ride through Glendale (Glenoaks Blvd.) to Chevy Chase Dr. Then prepare for a 4 mile climb to the top of Linda Vista for another rest area. Another short climb on Figueroa St. leads you downward toward the Rose Bowl in Pasadena via the lush neighborhoods near Descanso Gardens. A final rest stop at the Rose Bowl begins the mostly downhill finish through the streets of South Pasadena and neighborhoods north of Chinatown via the Arroyo Seco Bike Path. Be prepared for cool weather, quiet streets, scenic vistas and out of the seat climbing. Ride level: Intermediate to advanced. Refer to the enclosed map and elevation chart. If this were a spicy barbecued chicken dish, it would be an 8 on a scale of 1-10.

The Los Angeles Firecracker Run Committee, Inc. (LACFRC, Inc.) is a community based-based, 501.3(c)(3) non-profit organization with a non-salaried group of volunteers who donate their time and energies to organize and stage an annual run/walk event and to promote activities beneficial to the Los Angeles Chinatown community.

The "Firecracker Run" is recognized as one of the best organized events in the running community. For 31 years, the event remains participant-oriented; to make his/her participation as memorable and enjoyable as possible.
