January 22 through March 29 Ink Painting and Construction of Contemporary Chinese Art

From Qiu Deshu's inked paper collage to Cai Guangbin's black and white photography inspired images, and Wang Dongling's action calligraphy to Zou Cao's fingerprint landscape painting, this group exhibition of twelve artists showcases the diversity and innovation in contemporary Chinese ink art. Audacious, refreshing, and dexterous, the artists demonstrate their effort in breaking through the boundaries of tradition. With their experiments in subject matter, material application and execution, and in introducing contemporary vocabulary such as mixed media, conceptual art, action painting and abstraction to ink art, these artists seek new possibilities to create a dialogue with contemporary art in other parts of the world. Ink Painting And Construction Of Contemporary Chinese Art will be on view from January 22 through March 29, 2015. Special thanks to the Cai Family.

Featured Artists: Qiu Deshu, Wang Dongling, Li Huayi, Pan Gongkai, Lu Fusheng, Zhang Hong, Gan Yifei, Wang Tiande, Zheng Chongbin, Cai Guangbin, Lu Chuntao, Li Huai, and Zou Cao

Farida Fotouhi, author of “Charcoal Girl – Meeting the Ghost of the A-Bomb in 1954 Hiroshima,” will tell the story behind her book.

Ms. Fotouhi's father was the first American diplomat stationed in Hiroshima after the atomic bomb, and Farida was the only American in her Japanese elementary school.

Her talk will be illustrated with photos and excerpts from her book, including the “kamishibai” (graphic novel) she wrote at age 7 in Japanese, not realizing at the time that it was a metaphor for the atomic bomb and the human costs of war.

It's an inspiring story of how former enemies became friends, demonstrating ways the human heart can bridge the chasms of past enmities.

It's also a fascinating look into what Japan was like after WWII before the “economic miracle.”

Ms. Fotouhi is now President of Reality2, a branding and creative agency in Los Angeles.

What is the Festival of Books?

The Los Angeles Times Festival of Books began in 1996 with a simple goal: to bring together the people who create books with the people who love to read them. The festival was an immediate success and has evolved to include live bands, poetry readings, chef demos, cultural entertainment and artists creating their work on-site. There's also a photography exhibit, film screenings followed by Q&A's and discussion panels on some of today's hottest topics.

244 S. San Pedro Street

Los Angeles, CA 90012

MANA – Music & Dance of the Philippines & Hawai'i Featuring Kayamanan Ng Lahi with Patrick Landeza, Abe Lagrimas, Jr.

Kayamanan Ng Lahi celebrates its 25th anniversary year in the Aratani World Series.

In collaboration with Filipino-Americans Patrick Landeza (Slack Key Guitarist) and Abe Lagrimas Jr. (Ukelele), MANA speaks to the ancestral ties between Filipino and Hawaiian culture. The concept of “mana” comes from the shared lexicon of the Pacific and Southeast Asian region. In the Philippines, “mana” refers to the precious things learned and inherited from ancestors, in Hawai'i “mana” is the spiritual energy that can exist in places, objects and persons. In this new production, Kayamanan Ng Lahi speaks to the shared spirit of mana that is within us all, defining and strengthening us as keepers of our heritage and cultural heirlooms.
