February 1 – March 29, 2020 TRANSCENDIENTS: HEROES AT BORDERS

A contemporary art exhibition by Taiji Terasaki, in collaboration with JANM, Transcendents: Heroes at Borders honors individuals who advocate and fight for those who face discrimination, prejudice, and inequality at borders both real and imagined. Through video projections on mist, photographic weavings, and audience participation, visitors to this multimedia exhibition are invited to learn about, reflect on, and celebrate heroes in Los Angeles, across the nation, and within their own lives.

November 9, 2019 – June 7, 2020 UNDER A MUSHROOM CLOUD: HIROSHIMA, NAGASAKI, AND THE ATOMIC BOMB

A uranium bomb devastated Hiroshima on August 6, 1945, and a plutonium bomb exploded over Nagasaki on August 9. Beyond the many dead, the survivors have endured physical and spiritual pain to this day. Japanese Americans then living in Hiroshima and Nagasaki who survived are a part of this vital story.

Oscar Oiwa: Dreams of a Sleeping World

January 10, 2020 – April 26, 2020

About the Exhibition / The immersive art of Oscar Oiwa: Dreams of a Sleeping World asks visitors a poignant question indicative of this historical moment: What do we do when we are paralyzed by the chaos of our times? Oiwa is concerned that when the noise of our everyday world impedes our radiant minds, we shut down. In this gravitational pull of “sleep” we look to our dreams to reset, searching our subconscious for nourishment and hoping for wisdom to better face the dysfunction of our world.

Sun.

10:00 AM – 7:00 PM

Closed:

Academy Awards weekend

02.08 - 02.09

Location

JAPAN HOUSE Gallery

Level 2

Fee Complimentary

The exhibition is organized around four core principles as embodied in the work of Hida Sangyo Co., Ltd., one of the oldest furniture manufacturers in Japan, founded in 1920. The central ideas include coexistence with the forest (Forest), consideration of inherent human needs (Human), legacy cultivated through time (Time), and continuous refinement of craft (Craft). Together, they have contributed to the rich history of woodcraft in the Hida region.

The exhibition highlights the Hida region’s enduring craft connections to wood and the forest. The featured objects and processes engage the five senses and touch upon all aspects of contemporary lifestyle. From the raw materials of the forest, the origins of Hida’s craft traditions, to the furniture designs developed by Hida Sangyo in collaboration with some of the world’s top contemporary designers, such as Enzo Mari and Sori Yanagi, the exhibition spans the evolution of Hida's relationships with the Forest, Human needs, Time, and Craft.

This Weekend:

March 14, 2020 Film Screening and Q&A—Houses for Peace and Helping Hands

Saturday, 2:00 PM—4:00 PM

Join us for a screening of two documentaries produced by NHK World-Japan that focus on the little-known stories of goodwill in the aftermath of the atomic bomb, followed by a Q&A session with NHK directors. The program is presented in conjunction with Under a Mushroom Cloud: Hiroshima, Nagasaki, and the Atomic Bomb, on view through June 7, 2020.

Houses for Peace: Exploring the Legacy of Floyd Schmoie (2018)

Nearly 70 years ago, an American named Floyd Schmoe arrived in the atomic-bombed city of Hiroshima on a mission of peace. Together with a diverse group of volunteers from the US and Japan, he built houses for atomic bomb survivors and their families. Finalist for the 2019 Asian Academy Creative Awards (Documentary Category).

Helping Hands: The Lives of Atomic Bomb Orphans (2019)

Thousands of orphaned children wandered the streets after the atomic bombing of Hiroshima in 1945. Some died of hunger and disease, but others were able to survive thanks to helping hands from the US and South Korea. A story of the goodwill that war could not destroy.
