Defining Courage

ONE NIGHT ONLY! Wednesday, June 7 at 7 p.m. at the Segerstrom Concert Hall.

Defining Courage is a journey into the legacy of the Nisei Soldier, Americans of Japanese ancestry who served in the segregated military units of the 100th IB, 442nd RCT, MIS, and 522nd FAB. Considered the greatest fighting units in American military history, most have never heard their extraordinary stories.

SHIKI: The Four Seasons in Japanese Art

FEBRUARY 18 – MAY 21, 2023

SHIKI: The Four Seasons in Japanese Art brings this beauty and harmony to the Sturt Haaga Gallery on February 18. This exhibition from the Scripps College collection in Claremont features common seasonal motifs, from a bowl with wisteria blossoms gracing the interior to maple leaves embellishing a kimono. Natural elements like these are frequently stylized to heighten the ornamental effect when used as decorative motifs. This modest, refined simplicity is regarded as the highest form of beauty.

The California Aiseki Kai presents its 33rd annual show featuring outstanding examples of suiseki and other viewing stones.

Practiced in Asia for centuries and gaining popularity around the world, the art of viewing stones invites contemplation of the subtle, often fanciful forms that have been shaped by nature, the elements, and time.

The show is open 10 a.m.–5 p.m., Dec. 26 through 30, in the Ahmanson Classroom in the Brody Botanical Center. Free with general admission to the Huntington.

Where I went the past weeks and may have heard of at the last minute

(and before, since webinars are often still available online):

Attended presentation at the Pasadena Museum of History
Two Pasadenas: Debate Over Internment Camps

During World War II, Pasadenans struggled with many questions. Was it right to lock Americans of Japanese descent in camps? What could be done to counter FDR's War Relocation Authority?

Join Susie Ling, Pasadena City College Professor of Asian American Studies and History, for this presentation about the people who did their best to help their Japanese American neighbors. Pasadena's Friends of the American Way – along with William Carr, Hugh Anderson and PCC's John Harbeson – sponsored the return of the first "test case" to the area, 19-year-old Esther Takei

Visited the Griffith Park Travel Town to see the plaque dedicated to internees.

Apr 11 Started this webinar a little late but caught most of it:

It Matters: United States v. Wong Kim Ark

5 - 6:30pm PDT online

Join the Chinese American Museum to commemorate the 125th anniversary of United States v. Wong Kim Ark, a Supreme Court decision determining that the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees citizenship to all persons born in the United States, regardless of the national origin of their parents.

Attended the Torrance Cherry Blossom cultural festival. My photos at:

In Scientific American read an article about Chien-Shiung Wu, a pioneering physicist who got passed over for a Nobel probably because of gender and race. If you can't access the Sciam article, you can find her in Wikipedia.

Finished reading

The Yellow Peril: Dr. Fu Manchu and the Rise of Chinaphobia

by Christopher Frayling

This book meanders a lot and goes off on tangents, but the final chapter finally gets around to Fu Manchu.

I attended part of the Springfest of The Chinese American Museum and El Pueblo de Los Angeles Historical Monument. See description in previous section.

It was a pretty big affair occupying the whole plaza and more near Olvera Street with plenty of non-stop performances.
