About this Event

LELA International presents "A Bridge for Peace"

Aug 06, 3:00 PM PDT – Aug 27, 6:00 PM PDT

Opening Reception: August 6 from 3-6pm

Closing Reception: August 27 from 3-6pm

Forty-three years running, the Nagasaki Museum of Art and the artist Hideo Sakata, under the aegis of LELA International, has been quietly, serenely making the case for peace. On August 9th, 1945, Sakata, now a long-established Los Angeles artist, was a child playing in a family garden when the nuclear bomb ending WWII fell into his Nagasaki neighborhood.

SHIKI: The Four Seasons in Japanese Art
FEBRUARY 18 – MAY 21, 2023

SHIKI: The Four Seasons in Japanese Art brings this beauty and harmony to the Sturt Haaga Gallery on February 18. This exhibition from the Scripps College collection in Claremont features common seasonal motifs, from a bowl with wisteria blossoms gracing the interior to maple leaves embellishing a kimono. Natural elements like these are frequently stylized to heighten the ornamental effect when used as decorative motifs. This modest, refined simplicity is regarded as the highest form of beauty.

JACCC and Entity Contemporary Dance present seed

Thu, Jul 20, 2023 - Fri, Jul 21, 2023

James Irvine Japanese Garden & George J. Doizaki Gallery

244 S. San Pedro St. Los Angeles, CA 90012

Description

seed is a multidisciplinary, multilocational, multigenerational performance piece that explores the collision of contemporary dance, projection mapping, and ikebana—the Japanese art of flower arranging. How can we honor and embody traditional art forms to reconnect with our cultural histories, the seed of our existence? Performed by Entity Contemporary Dance and Sogetsu Ikebana master artist Haruko Takeichi, seed examines the ephemerality of beauty and the cycles of fragmentation, destruction, and rebirth within both nature and society.

Defining Courage

ONE NIGHT ONLY! Wednesday, June 7 at 7 p.m. at the Segerstrom Concert Hall.

Defining Courage is a journey into the legacy of the Nisei Soldier, Americans of Japanese ancestry who served in the segregated military units of the 100th IB, 442nd RCT, MIS, and 522nd FAB. Considered the greatest fighting units in American military history, most have never heard their extraordinary stories.

The California Aiseki Kai presents its 33rd annual show featuring outstanding examples of suiseki and other viewing stones.

Practiced in Asia for centuries and gaining popularity around the world, the art of viewing stones invites contemplation of the subtle, often fanciful forms that have been shaped by nature, the elements, and time.

The show is open 10 a.m.–5 p.m., Dec. 26 through 30, in the Ahmanson Classroom in the Brody Botanical Center. Free with general admission to the Huntington.

Santa Fe Camp Descendants: Building Community, Finding Issei Voices

WhenWed, October 4, 4:00pm – 5:30pm

WhereZOOM (map)

Description

The Santa Fe Internment Camp (SFIC), one of the largest DOJ prison camps during WWII, incarcerated predominantly Issei males. In the decades following SFIC's closure, all remnants of the site were demolished and replaced with a subdivision. In similar fashion, the history of the Issei unjustly imprisoned here was buried, until their descendants entered a decade-long battle to uncover this interred tragedy. Despite great controversy and misunderstanding, descendants succeeded in establishing a marker at the site on April 20, 2002. Twenty years later, Dr. Gail Okawa and Krist Ishikawa Jessup, both descendants of SFIC incarcerated, have joined forces across generational lines to develop a community of descendants to foster research and discussion about the Issei incarceration.

We invite you to join us in discussion of this history, the erasure of the Issei narrative, the varied experiences between Hawai'i and the continental US, and the connections between Issei incarcerated and the military. This conversation will highlight the importance of community building among SFIC incarcerated descendants, including a Q&A with the speakers, with the goal of inviting descendants to engage in community, share their existing knowledge, and participate in future planning and research efforts centered around SFIC.

Since my grandfather was imprisoned at Santa Fe

I attended the Tuna Canyon lunch since my grandfather was incarcerated there.

On the way to the Union Station Train Festival, made my first stop at the new Little Tokyo Metro Station. Quite a selection of color murals decorating the platform.

Decided to take some pictures in LA Little Tokyo

Little Tokyo and the JANM \(ikemi.info\)

Especially at the JANM where I checked out Don't Fence Me In again and Aki's Market. The latter I found not to be too "accessible" for me. Kind of sparse or I didn't figure it out.

For most of August I have been on vacations. Some of the relevant places I have visited are:

Manzanar reservoir.

My photos at

<http://ikemi.info/Graphics2023/ManzanarReservoir2023/index.htm>

They've also been doing a lot of work on the garden.

Huell included the reservoir in an episode of California Gold:

<https://blogs.chapman.edu/huell-howser-archives/2002/01/08/manzanar-californias-gold-4012/>

I paid a visit to the Heart Mountain visitor center. My photos at:

<http://ikemi.info/Graphics2023/HeartMountain2023/index.htm>

Stopped at the site of the Santa Fe DOJ internment camp since my grandfather was interned there. It is now a vast dog park, which is a better use of the land. My photos at:

<http://ikemi.info/Graphics2023/SantaFeDOJ2023/index.htm>

On the way home I stopped at Poston and Parker.

The train station where internees arrived is still there.

Still kind of rough around the ruined school rooms. Although they and the ruins of the auditorium have been fenced, the fence has been breached. It looks like an attempt has been made to lock up one of the school buildings.

Finished my virtual version of the Firecracker 40 mile bike ride. Last week finished a virtual Firecracker 10K, checking out portions of Elysian park I had missed before, especially the NW area.

Checked out the San Gabriel Lunar New Year Festival. Liked the dog booth.

Couldn't fit in the Golden Dragon Parade.

Watched Caltech webinar on tea:

Lunar New Year Webinar: "The Science of Tea Making"

<https://www.caltech.edu/campus-life-events/calendar/lunar-new-year-webinar-the-science-of-tea-making-1>

The recorded webinar is now on Youtube at:

Visited the Western Museum of Flight where there is a compact but well done exhibit on women in aviation, including women of Asian descent.

On Youtube watched:

Come Out Fighting: The 761st - The Black WWII Battalion That Liberated Hitler's Camps (Fern Levitt)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yDI7zOONVn4>

Moving story of America's black tankers, their liberation of concentration camps, and their fight for justice at home.

24th Annual Japanese New Year's Oshogatsu Festival Event - Little Tokyo (2 Locations - Jan 1st)

10AM-4PM Weller Court

123 Astronaut E S Onizuka St.

Los Angeles, CA 90012

and Japanese Village Plaza

335 E 2nd St.

I missed the opening ceremonies but caught part of the calligraphy demonstration, the minyo performance, and the aikido demonstration, before the rains came.

Also went over to the JACCC to see the ikebana exhibit. I also got to see the Kotohajime video performances in displayed in the exhibit hall.

At the Huntington Gardens I checked out:

The California Aiseki Kai presents its 33rd annual show featuring outstanding examples of suiseki and other viewing stones.

Watched the multicultural LA County Holiday Celebration.
